Delta County Community Chest Campaign Begins October 15

Alfred Gossan, Bruce Brackett Are Chairmen

Organization of a Community Chest "army" of leaders and solicitors to conduct a drive for $20,000 to finance the work of six health and welfare agencies in Delta county in 1953 is near completion but many more volunteer workers are needed, the Delta County Community Chest Council executive committee announced this morning.

The drive will start Wednesday, October 15.

Teams are being lined up in Escanaba under the leadership of Bruce Brackett, 217 Ogden Avenue, and in the 14 townships under the direction of Victor Borga, of Garden township, but preliminary plans are not yet completed in Gladstone.

Dr. Alfred A. Gossan, 1515 Ludington street, has been named county chairman to succeed Nicholas P. Chapekis, and Brackett was appointed Escanaba city chairman to succeed James G. Ward Jr.

Meet in Gladstone

The successor to A. B. Ellingson as Gladstone city chairman will be named at a meeting at 9 Saturday morning in the office of Lewis Empson Insurance Agency, 921 Delta Avenue, Gladstone.

CHEST HEADQUARTERS

The Delta County Community Chest headquarters is located at 1515 Ludington street and is clearly marked with a large sign. The chest telephone number is 3722. Anyone wishing to volunteer to help on any of 11 committees in Escanaba or elsewhere is asked to call in person or telephone the chest office.

Those who will meet with Empson are Myron Goodman, Reuben Sjoquist, Oliver Gabrielson, Wallace Cameron, Ross Davis, Frank Jandro, John Vogt, John Norton, Ellingson and several other civic-minded Gladstone residents.

"Although we have not yet named a Gladstone chairman, we are determined that Gladstone will do its part as it did last year," a spokesman for the group said. "It is a community responsibility."

Dr. Gossan, new county chairman, was a resident of Chicago, Ill., for three years and served in the United States Navy for 18 months prior to coming to the Upper Peninsula. He married an Upper Peninsula girl and the couple decided to live in Escanaba.

Meet Here This Evening

He is a graduate of three optometry schools in Chicago, including the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, and during the war he served in San Diego, Calif., and for 14 months at the U. S. Naval hospital in Boston, Mass.

Bruce Brackett, new city chairman, is a lifelong resident of Escanaba. He received his formal education at Escanaba High School and Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis. With his wife and two daughters, he resides at 217 Ogden Avenue.

Brackett has been in the automobile business since 1935 and presently is owner and manager of Brackett Chevrolet, 601 Ludington street. A former city Red Cross campaign chairman, he has been active in civic, service and fraternal affairs for many years. He is the son of the late Harry Brackett, one of the founders of the first Community Chest organization in Escanaba and Delta county and has always had a keen interest in its program and its aims.

Eleven committees are being organized in Escanaba, and a meeting of leaders selected to date will be held in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office, 710 Ludington street, at 7:30 this evening to discuss further plans.

Urges Cooperation

Committee chairmen in Escanaba named to date are: Industrial—Nyal Witham and Sam Ham; Ludington Street—Briton J. Hall and Robert Brackett; Stephenson Avenue—Herb Flath and Casmar Milkiewicz; Clubs—Dr. Vernon K. Johnson; Schools—John A. Lemmire; Unions—Capt. Louis Thompson; Professional—Attorney William Anderson and Dr. Francis Anderson; Public Employees—George Harvey, Thomas McMeekin and William J. Karas.

Remaining to be selected are chairmen for the Advance Gifts, Residential and Woman's Clubs committees in Escanaba. O. V. Thatcher and Carl J. Sawyer supervised the work of the Advance Gifts unit last year. Mrs. G. W. Traverser and Mrs. John Fawcett headed the residential committee, and Mrs. Lency Clairmont conducted the drive among the various women's organizations.

Urging the cooperation of everyone in this community endeavor, Dr. Gossan yesterday said that he would do everything possible to make this year's campaign as successful as that conducted in 1951.

"All of us must work together to raise sufficient funds to make sure that the work of the six re-

Labor Issues Outlined In Election Campaign

Whatever party wins in the November election, we will see changes in labor-management relations and continuing progress in elimination of discrimination in employment and education.

So declared Prof. Joseph E. Kallenbach of the University of Michigan last night as he presented the first of a series of lecture discussions on "Campaign Issues in An Election Year."

Professor Kallenbach spoke on the labor and civil rights issues in the current campaigns. The lecture series is sponsored by the University's Upper Michigan extension service, the Escanaba adult education program, and the Delta County U-M Alumni club.

26% for GOP in 1948
Prefacing his lecture with a statement that he wanted to approach the issues objectively and that he realized there was intense feeling on them, Professor Kallenbach stated he thought the labor and civil rights issues would be "decisive" in the coming election.

The labor vote is strategically located to influence the outcome of state contests, he pointed out. About 15 million persons are in organized labor's ranks and, if one adds to these their families, they have a total vote of about 25 million. However, the working class has the poorest turnout for voting, so the actual vote cast by labor is less than 25 million, Kallenbach stated.

Labor in Key States
A Gallup poll taken in August of this year, he stated, showed that about 33 per cent of organized labor will vote for Eisenhower. However, the poll was taken before candidates had expounded their views, Kallenbach noted.

Two-thirds of organized labor's membership (8 million in the A. F. of L., 6 million in the CIO, and 2 million in unaffiliated unions) live in 12 key states which have 271 electoral votes. They are close states, politically, and if the vote of labor is the same in this election, changes will have to take place in other voting groups, Kallenbach observed.

In 1948, Truman won in seven of these 12 states and Dewey in five. The key states for the labor vote are Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Washington, California and Texas.

Cities As Democratic
The labor vote can and is likely to be decisive, and Eisenhower can win only if he makes inroads into labor ranks in these 12 states, Kallenbach prophesied.

In discussing civil rights, the U-M professor said that the Negro vote has been important nationally only since 1932. Previously they lived mostly in the south and tended to vote Republican. Before 1932 only in large cities such as Chicago and Philadelphia was the Negro vote important, Kallenbach explained.

But by 1928, the vote of the large cities had shifted and began to be Democratic. Smith won over Hoover in the cities in the 1928 election, though the city vote was predominantly GOP before, Kallenbach said.

Budgets of each organization have been studied carefully and officially approved by the Chest Council's executive committee, which functions as the budget committee as specified under the Constitution and By-Laws of the Chest Council.

The various budgets and contingency or emergency fund comprising the quota of $20,000 for Delta county follow:

Michigan Children's Fund $ 750
Catholic Relief Fund 425
Salvation Army 5,000
Girl Scouts 2,900
Boy Scouts 8,100
Campfire Girls 1,900
Contingency Fund 835
Total $20,000

Webster School PTA Planning Carnival

The Webster School PTA has selected a committee of nine to handle arrangements for a Halloween carnival to be held at the school Friday evening, Oct. 31.

The committee is comprised of the Misses Anne Abramson and Mary Caddy, Mesdames Edward Hamelin, Rod Beauchamp and George Erdman, and Emil Johnson, Wallace Lorenson and Cecil LaComb.

Plans for the carnival were made at the PTA's first meeting of the year Monday night. Mothers of kindergarten students served lunch following the meeting in the Webster gym.

During the meeting Andrew Houston spoke on formation of a Cub Pack for boys. William Doucette presided at the business session.

Drive Quota Is $20,000; City Share $12,500

Quotas in the 1952 Delta County Community Chest campaign are the same as last year—$12,500 for Escanaba, $4,500 for Gladstone and $3,000 for the townships—it was announced today.

Because the need is as great if not greater this year to maintain the work of health, recreation and welfare agencies that benefit directly or indirectly every resident of the county, it was decided to keep the $20,000 goal the same as last year.

Again the recipient agencies are the Michigan Children's Aid, Cod Liver Oil Fund, Salvation Army, Campfire Girls, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, all of which are conducting worthwhile work throughout the county, the Chest Council pointed out.

Negro Vote in Crucial Areas
The picture has continued to show Democratic predominance in the cities. The Negro vote, which has ranged from one to two and a half million, and the working class vote are important factors in this pattern of voting.

In 1948, Truman polled three out of four votes in Chicago or about 71 per cent of the Negro vote, Kallenbach noted. He cited figures, recognized by authorities, which show that the Negro Democratic vote in Chicago increased from 29 per cent in 1932, to 49 per cent in 1936, 55 per cent in 1940 and 65 per cent in 1944.

In 11 non-Southern states, Negroes hold the balance of power. The Negroes are more conscious of their political power and rights, and are one of the most cohesive voting blocks in the nation, Kallenbach pointed out.

The direction of the Negro vote also will be decisive in this election, the political science professor asserted.

Stevenson Against Injunction
Union people feel the Taft-Hartley Act is against them and weakens their position in bargaining, the U-M professor stated. They particularly objected to the power of the president to compel labor to return to work, on terms not its own, under provisions for the 80-day injunction in the act.

Senator Taft agrees the act needs amending and in 1949 provided a bill that would have amended the act in 23 respects, Kallenbach said.

The civil rights issues come to a point on whether the national government should take action. The GOP platform states the party will support the idea of discouraging discrimination, but wants federal action to supplement state action and wants it done without using a federal bureaucracy. The Democratic platform, he said, is not as strong as previously, and is written in general terms which can also be interpreted in several ways.

Laboratory Course For Water Employees Is Being Considered

Russell L. Johnson, engineer for the Northern Peninsula district of the state health department, has left for Houghton to confer with college officials on a laboratory short course for water plant personnel.

The course is proposed by the education committee of the state water works association, of which Johnson, and A. C. Christensen, of Escanaba, are members.

He also will assist with municipal water supply and sewage treatment problems in Copper Country municipalities.

Earlier this week, Dr. W. M. Decker and Fred B. Kellow, of the Michigan department of health, conferred here on recent legislation and means for carrying out newly delegated responsibilities. They are on a tour of city, county and district health units in Upper Michigan.

Work at the branch laboratories at Powers and Houghton was discussed Tuesday with O. E. McGuire, of the state health department's division of laboratories.

Cayia Honored At Inland Mine

CRYSTAL FALLS — Iron ore mining on the Menominee Range of Michigan's Upper Peninsula has a "bright future" unclouded by threat from foreign ore imports or the development of low grade ore processing in Minnesota, a Chicago steel executive asserted today.

The statement was made by Philip D. Block, Jr., vice president of Inland Steel Company, at a luncheon following the christening of Inland's new mine at Crystal Falls, Alfred J. Cayia, of Manitowish, for whom the new mine is named, was guest of honor at the luncheon.

Inland Steel, Block said, is "planning to continue the use of a good tonnage of Menominee ores and I am hopeful that some day we may even expand our operations on this range."

He expressed the belief that other steel companies will do the same, since the steel industry has now learned to handle ores of a high phosphorous content.

Optimistic Outlook
"I do not mean to imply that we can use an unlimited amount of high phosphorous ores or that we can burden our blast furnaces with 100 per cent high phosphorous ores," Block warned, "but we have reached the point where we can absorb a much larger percentage of these ores without any detrimental effects to our operation."

The Inland executive also predicted that the importation of foreign ores and the new low-grade operations in Minnesota, because of the high costs involved, will not effect iron ore production on the Menominee Range.

"Although foreign ores, produced from open pits, can be mined more economically than underground ores on this range," Block said, "these foreign ores must be transported over very long distances at extremely high costs."

In the case of Minnesota's low grade ores, he said, the "very large capital investment required" and the necessity of mining and beneficiating three tons of crude ore for every ton of marketable product makes the process far more expensive than opening and operating an underground mine on the Menominee Range.

"We must keep in mind," he said, "that the transportation costs from the Menominee Range are less than from any range in this country to the steel producing centers in Chicago and on Lake Erie. This gives the Menominee Range a good edge."

Praises A. J. Cayia

The new Cayia mine, one of three now being operated by Inland on the Menominee Range, is located two miles east of Crystal Falls. The man for whom it has been named is manager of the Inland Lime and Stone Company, a subsidiary of the steel firm.

Block paid high praise to Cayia, a native of Crystal Falls, in describing how the name of the new mine was selected. The fact that Fred Cayia was born in Crystal Falls and that he is the top executive of Inland's iron ore mining department were considered in naming the new mine, Block said, "but what really influenced our selection was that Fred Cayia is both a respected and admired associate, and an outstanding citizen in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and the Lake Superior District."

In his address, Block briefly reviewed the history of iron ore mining on the Menominee Range and the mutual dependency of the ore mining industry and the communities of the Upper Peninsula upon each other.

Quality Spuds To Be Featured At County Show

With the high quality of the potatoes now being harvested by local growers, the Delta County Potato Show on Oct. 23 shows prospects of being a top-notch display of the county's foremost farm product.

Growers in this area are expected to bring to the show their finest representative samples of a superior 1952 crop to make the show one of the best in years, according to farm agent J. L. Heirman.

The potato show this year will be held in the display room of the Escanaba Machine Company from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. and climaxed with the evening presentation of awards at the Cornell town hall.

Awards By Businessmen
Prizes for winning displays will consist of ribbon awards, cash premiums and trophies. The money awards and trophies have been donated by a group of Escanaba businessmen through the local Chamber of Commerce.

Basis of the awards will be the placement of the contestant's exhibit in the judging, added to the score given him for approved growing practices he follows plus the points he receives on his per-acre yield. This aggregate score will determine the winners of the Potato Growers Contest, Heirman reported.

The show will feature four separate contests:

In one, 4-H potato club members will compete with each other in a contest in which they show 32 tubers of any variety. The potatoes in the sample must be of the same size and shape, weigh about seven ounces each, and be free from blemishes and disease. The potatoes will be judged on these points.

In another class, adult growers will exhibit certified potatoes in a sample of 128 tubers, each weighing approximately seven ounces, which will be judged on basis of type, size, shape and cleanliness.

Progressive Class Contest
The third division will feature table stock potatoes in two categories: a 32 tubers sample, and a sample of U. S. No. 1 representative table stock.

The fourth contest will be the "progressive" class, open to farmers who have been growing potatoes only a relatively short

Several Contests Open To Youths At U. P. Potato Show

Young potato growers to the Upper Peninsula will find several contests open to them at the annual U. P. Potato Show to be held in Crystal Falls Nov. 4 to 6.

The five top contests which they will be eligible to enter are: the 32 tubers class; the 4-H Premier Growers Contest (with two divisions); the Potato Grading and Judging Contest; and the poster contest.

In aggregate, these five contests will carry $292 in cash premiums, a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago and a trophy award.

These contests are generally entered by a number of Delta county 4-H potato growers who show their exhibits first at the Delta county Potato Show. The local show will be held this year on Sept. 23.

time and who would be placed in unfair competition with the large growers, Heirman explained.

Agricultural agent Heirman is requesting growers to bring in their samples one day prior to the show. He has also extended an invitation to the public to view the exhibits on the day of the show.

The official judge of the exhibits will be William Cargo, farm crops and soils specialist of the Marquette and Chatham extension stations.

Decline Noted In Polio Cases

Autumn frosts and gradual decline of the normal polio curve have brought about a reduction of new cases of polio reported here in the past two weeks.

Since Sept. 23 only two new cases were reported. The last was that of Wayne Sharkey, son of the Kenneth Sharkeys of Rapid River, on Oct. 1.

Since the outbreak of polio in Upper Michigan, Delta County recorded 47 cases. Two were fatal. Most of the polio patients from Delta County were hospitalized at St. Luke's hospital in Marquette and have been returned to their homes.

Fifteen of these now are receiving physical therapy treatment in the Escanaba Junior High School, and a number are getting post-polio exercises and hot-baths at home under instruction of Miss Jan Kennedy, of Marquette, nurse for the Michigan Crippled Children's commission.

Among those still in Marquette, according to reports received Oct. 3 from Marquette by Miss Kennedy, are Lawrence Beach, Toni Bal, Mrs. Harlan Clark, of Gladstone; James Grow, of Escanaba; Charles Fisher, of Nahma; and Wayne Sharkey, of Rapid River.

The U. P. polio total of reported cases this year now stands at 126, the highest since 1940 when there were 155 reported cases. Last year, there were 39 cases in Upper Michigan, all of them non-fatal.

Delta County has the highest reported number of polio cases in the peninsula this year.

The U. P. fatalities from the disease this year claimed two from Delta County and one each from Menominee, Chippewa and Ontonagon counties.

PUT A pat of GOOD LUCK on your husband's hot toast at breakfast tomorrow morning. Don't say a word. Just watch him out of the corner of your eye.

If your husband guesses that GOOD LUCK is margarine, we will repay you what you paid your grocer, plus postage. And no questions asked.

You Can't Tell the Difference

The inside story behind this new GOOD LUCK is absolutely fascinating.

We set out to produce a margarine which could hold its own with "you-know-what". A margarine which the most persnickety people would be happy to serve on their tables. A margarine which would be "indistinguishable".

It took us fourteen years of secret research to do this trick. But we did it all right.

The actual flavor of GOOD LUCK was achieved by adapting a remarkable technique discovered at a famous State College of Agriculture, in the farm belt.

Is GOOD LUCK as Nourishing as "You-Know-What"?

The latest medical evidence proves that the new GOOD LUCK is, if anything, more nourishing than "you-know-what".

For example, GOOD LUCK gives you a minimum of 15,000 U. S. P. units of Vitamin A in every golden pound—more than you get in thirty glasses of Grade A milk!

What's more, GOOD LUCK gives you these vitamins all the year round—not just in summer, when the grass happens to be green in the pastures.

This is terrifically important, because doctors have discovered that more than half of our teen-agers are not getting enough Vitamin A in their present diet. You mothers know this is very serious, because Vitamin A is essential for growth, for good skin, and for resisting infection.

Strong Boys—and Pretty Girls

Give your boys plenty of GOOD LUCK, and it will help make them big and strong.

Give it to your girls, and it will actually help them have pretty complexions—this is a scientific fact.

In addition to fortifying GOOD LUCK with Vitamin A, we also add thousands of gallons of fat-free milk which contains the valuable solids and minerals.

Save Up To 50¢ a Pound

You might expect to pay a fancy price for this glorious new table margarine, which is unconditionally guaranteed by Lever Brothers Company. But the amazing fact is that GOOD LUCK costs no more than old-fashioned oleo!

So treat yourself to the best, and still save as much as 50¢ a pound—enough to buy two extra quarts of milk for your family!

Tear out the valuable coupon below, and save an additional 10¢ on your first pound of GOOD LUCK. Better do it today!

Football Fans Push Campaign
For Support Of Eskymos Team

ESCANABA High School football fans are putting on a campaign this week to bring out large crowds for the final two home games on the Eskymo schedule, Iron Mountain here Saturday and Marquette here the following Saturday.

Inspiration for the effort developed after the Kingsford game last week, which was attended by a comparatively small EHS football crowd. There were adverse factors, such as the World Series, opening of the bird and small game season, and the fact that Kingsford has never been a game for the Eskymos. Also this year Kingsford's record was not too attractive.

However, the Eskymos got off to a slow start this year, losing to Sault Ste. Marie in the opener, 7-6. They tied Ironwood, 0-0. And then they blossomed out with a terrific performance at Menominee. They lost, 26-20, but only after a battle in which they deserved no worse than a tie.

Last Saturday the Eskymos romped to a 54-0 victory over Kingsford. They displayed a lot of cute football. Football fans concede that Coach Joe Milokna and his assistant, Coach Gustafson, are doing a remarkable job in their first year at the EHS football helm.

And so the big effort to pack the stands for the two remaining home games, Iron Mountain and Marquette are "natural" rivals. Both have shown great potentialities this year. These games should be football attractions that Escanaba fans want to see. Join the parade to the athletic field the next two Saturdays and you'll be rewarded with two outstanding games.

Menominee-Marquette
Game Called Off

MARINETTE'S decision to cancel the traditional football game with Menominee for this year and next year was a big surprise to football fans of the Upper Peninsula.

It is regrettable that circumstances have created a situation resulting in the decision to suspend the annual M&M game. We in Escanaba, of course, are too far removed from the Twin Cities to feel the intense rivalries that exist there concerning football. But if the situation had become explosive, as Marquette officials report, then it is well that the game has been called off.

High school athletic contests are supposed to develop friendly rivalries and good sportsmanship. When they fail to do that, they have missed their objective and it is better to call a halt.

There have been times in Escanaba when athletic rivalries became so heated that the atmosphere was charged with explosives. Fortunately, this situation does not exist today and it has not existed this year.

"SPECIAL INTERESTS"
(Green Bay Press Gazette)

Natural Gas is already a giant in this land.

There are 275 pipeline companies in America that cross state lines and therefore are engaged in interstate commerce. Most of these are quite minor in size. Only about 30 of them serve what may be called major market areas. One of these is the Michigan-Wisconsin which already reaches Detroit and other industrial areas of Michigan and supplies principal manufacturing centers in Wisconsin clear to Green Bay.

Thus Natural Gas is a great interest in this country. Whether it is a "special interest" depends upon the treatment accorded it.

Few would be any quicker to take a position at its side than the Press-Gazette and defend its legitimate interests were they in jeopardy or were it in any manner improperly sapped of its strength or robbed of its lawful rights.

But Natural Gas needs no assistance. It is already a power behind the throne and for one so young has assumed extraordinary authority.

That is bad. It is bad for the country and it is bad for Natural Gas. Institutions that begin to reel around with their authority usually get a good beating in America. It may not come right away. But it will come.

One might expect that Natural Gas would have more brains than to become a "kept industry," a perfumed doll filching from the entire nation because it owns Senator Kerr and others who own more than their share of the Truman administration.

When the President mentions the "special interests" he claims to be bravely fighting he has no reference to Natural Gas.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

ABOARD PRESIDENT'S TRUMAN'S TRAIN.—Harry Truman has been gliding past country that he knows well, and it has been smiling at him.

Outside his train window the alfalfa fields of Utah lay green and prosperous as he passed pick-up bales, which many farmers could not afford a few years ago, leaving a trail of green bales behind them. In California stacked upon stack of wheat straw dotted the fields. At Provo, a new steel mill, built by the government when private industry refused to take the risk, has brought new prosperity.

Water seems more plentiful this year, and in some areas it has been brought down from the mountains by dams and reclamation projects pioneered by the Truman or Roosevelt administrations.

Yes, the far west smiles on Harry Truman both politically and economically. It smiles but it isn't boisterous. It doesn't give him the noisy demonstrations that the crowds give Eisenhower, and the President in turn doesn't usually give them the fire-and-brimstone, skin-em-alive oratory that Ike delivers from the rear platform. Sometimes he does, but he doesn't follow a general pattern.

However, though the crowds are big and the faces friendly you detect an undercurrent of Republicanism in these normally Democratic states.

It's hard to put your finger on, but it's there. It's there partly because the sun is smiling economically. There isn't the economic pinch that there has been sometimes. There isn't any workers' and farmers' fear of insecurity. And in that respect, Harry Truman's reclamation, the new steel mill, the price supports perhaps may help defeat his own political ends. But perhaps more important is the desire of a change. People aren't particularly swayed by oratorical bombast on either side, and many are not at all enthusiastic about Eisenhower. And they don't know much about Stevenson, except that he's a little highbrow. But above all they want a change.

WILL MCCARRAN BOLT TICKET?

In Nevada, hoary-haired Sen. Pat McCarran is stuck politically between the devil and the deep blue sea. A young war veteran named Tom Mechleng succeeded in trouncing McCarran's former law partner, Allan Bible, in the Democratic primaries, so the natural thing for McCarran to do would be to cut the Democratic ticket, which he hasn't hesitated to do in the past.

But if he cuts Democrat Mechleng, then he elects GOP Sen. "Molly" Malone, for whom he has no respect whatsoever. Time after time, the brusque McCarran has snubbed or publicly browbeaten his GOP colleague from Nevada.

Once, when Malone was making a senate speech condemning the reciprocal trade treaty, McCarran, listening impatiently, finally whispered to Sen. Walter George of Georgia that he would "put a stop to this."

Deliberately stalking across the front of the Senate chamber, McCarran planted himself in front of the other senator from Nevada and fixed him with a glassy stare.

Today McCarran, a Democrat, is likely to cut the Democratic ticket and secretly support Malone whom he doesn't respect but whom he can control.

NIXON UNDERCUT WARREN

Republican leaders are not happy over the fact that California's popular Gov. Earl Warren welcomed President Truman when the president's train entered the state, and that he also is inviting both Stevenson and Eisenhower to speak from the steps of the state capitol.

However, Governor Warren is not only always elected by a large segment of Democratic votes, but he has no particular reason to love Nixon and Eisenhower.

It was Senator Nixon, a member of the California delegation, who bored from within at the Chicago convention in order to swing Warren's own delegation over to Eisenhower. Knowland, the senior California senator, was taken on the mountain-top by Senator Taft and offered the full weight of the Taft delegates for president if Taft failed to make it on the first ballot. In return Knowland had to deliver the California delegation on the first ballot.

Seldom has a young man been so severely tempted. But Senator Knowland remained loyal to his friend, Governor Warren.

Nixon, however, didn't. He cut Warren, got the vice presidency.

Navy's Guided Missiles Used In World War II And Then Scrapped

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—The story behind the Navy's supposedly new television eye guided missile, used so effectively in Korea, makes one of the most incredible chapters of World War II.

Those on the inside know that the missile is not new at all. It was successfully used against the Japanese for 30 days in 1944. But some of its opponents managed to get it killed.

The result was that much of the equipment, which was being made ready for an all-out missile attack against Japan, was dumped in the ocean. The files were buried. The project's personnel were disbanded. And it wasn't until after the Korean War started that the work began again.

The Navy's announcement of the missile's success frees this reporter, who has known the astounding details for years, to tell the whole story of the development of this potent weapon. It is a story that rivals the famous Billy Mitchell case of the post-World War I era.

The events that lead up to the Korean missile attack began in 1936. Capt. Robert F. Jones, now planning officer for the Navy's guided missile program, and Capt. Delmer S. Fahney, now retired and an executive for a large electronics firm, were assigned by the Navy to develop drones as fleet anti-aircraft targets.

They succeeded, and won commendations as a result. Jones was intrigued by the possibilities of the device, and stayed with it afterwards. He began making crude experiments with drones as weapons. He had one of them simulate an attack on a station wagon driving along the beaches of Hawaii.

At the start of World War II, Jones and Fahney went to Capt. Oscar Smith, a top planner on the staff of Adm. Ernest J. King, with a mission to make a weapon out of the drone. Smith saw its possibilities and sold King on the idea.

In approving it, King wrote, "This is one secret weapon which we want to use in force on first employment against the enemy."

"Project Option" was the code name for it, with Smith as its head and Jones and Fahney helping.

During the next months, the television eye was added, production started on rather crude wooden missiles and crews were trained. Smith, Jones and Fahney were convinced the missile would revolutionize warfare. At the peak of the effort, more than 3000 men worked on "Project Option" at six bases.

King's goal was to turn thousands of war-weary planes into missiles for an all-out attack on remnants of the Jap fleet and mainland.

But opposition in the Navy mounted to the project in direct proportion to its increasing success. In spite of this, Smith got some units out to the Pacific. On July 30, 1944, in a dramatic test on Guadalcanal before the big brass of the Pacific, two missiles blasted giant holes in the Yamazuki Maru, a beached Jap freighter.

The most astonishing part of the whole story is that the official recommendation to King which finally killed the project, prepared by the air staff at Pearl Harbor, was sent on May 29, two months before the test. It read in part:

"There is no present or prospective employment for units of the Special Air Task Force (which it was then called). The active theaters of war are not appropriate places for such experimental development work. This project has absorbed large numbers of highly skilled technical officers and enlisted men."

"It is recommended that all units be decommissioned and that personnel, equipment and facilities not required for experimental development of radio flight control on a reasonable scale be assigned to duty in support of more important components of the program."

This got to King before the favorable reports on the test, which he apparently did not see. The project was junked.

Before the official death notice arrived, however, Jones suspected it was coming. He went to Gen. Claude Larkin, commander of aircraft in the Northern Solomons, with movies of the Guadalcanal test. Larkin told Jones he wanted it. Combat operations began Sept. 27, 1944.

Records of the 46 missiles which were launched in 1944 show marks as "knocked out anti-aircraft emplacements on Fallale Island as ordered . . . obliterated."

lighthouse at Cape St. George, New Ireland, which was being used by the enemy as a radar tower."

In his official report, Larkin wrote:

"A large number of missiles succeeded in passing through areas of medium to intense anti-aircraft fire . . . the missile is capable of precision attack . . . with minimum risk . . . highly successful technical missions were carried out in an admirable manner."

In a final report to King, Jones and Smith said:

"The effort to get this remarkable weapon into the war in quantity has failed. But the weapon itself has not failed. The opposition stemmed from officers in key positions who did not observe it in combat, who through prejudice or preconceived ideas seem not to appreciate the possibilities of so novel a weapon. Similar objections were raised against the Monitor in 1862."

Jones helped to revive the project after the Korean War started. As executive officer of a carrier force off Korea, he felt the need for such a missile. And he sold the planners on its revival.

Between the time the Navy's missile was scrapped and the revived, the services spent $5,000,000 trying to develop other types of guided missiles without perfecting any of them enough for use in Korea.

Oscar Smith, looking back on the experience, says:

"The real tragedy of the thing is that the U. S. has lost so much valuable time and experience in the practical use of guided missiles. It takes this kind of use of an operational missile for the development of tactical and strategic doctrine. In the development of any weapon there is no substitute for its actual use. This has been lost."

"Maybe the one we had wasn't as good as some that they say are coming up. But if we had had a chance to continue its development it would have been greatly improved and in the meantime we would have had an operational missile in our arsenal."

POLITICAL YEAR—As election nears the nerves of the violent partisans among our citizenry begin to wear as dangerously thin as the first ice on Bay de Noc.

In these trying times during which campaign speeches, popularity polls, charges and counter charges, are hurled from printed page, radio and platform, the citizen has a right to grow jumpy.

Only the true independent, lofty and serene in his intellectual tower, can escape at least a slight case of frustration.

The political tensions manifest themselves in unusual actions. People say and do the darndest things. Old friends become sudden enemies, husbands and wives quarrel, people resume writing letters to the editor, and offense is found where none was intended.

FOR THE RECORD—If a political party representative should speak to the Escanaba High School students (as did Senator Taft on his recent visit here) there is a cry from uniformed Democrats that the schools are partisan.

Either they do not know or they overlook the fact that Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Democrat, addressed the High School students previously on a visit here and no one was offended. That was before the campaign began.

School officials have always held the door open to visiting dignitaries who want to speak to the budding citizenry. It is a part of the encouragement given pupils in their study of government, so they may vote wisely when they are old enough to vote.

If this be partisanship, let the critics make the most of it.

THE BOTTLED VOTERS—Certainly no one would for a moment believe that high school students will go home and switch Papa from the Democrat to the Republican list. For most people know that sons and daughters grow up to become affiliated with the party of Father's choice.

There are all sorts of guards and barriers established by law and otherwise to prevent political abuse of public employees.

The Hatch Act, for example, prohibits federal employees from engaging in political activity. During the period of political campaign, therefore, you will find few federal employees who will (except among close friends) even use the names of Ike and Adlai.

Some service clubs and other organizations have written into their constitutions a ban against political discussion. This is designed to prevent the membership from falling apart every four years.

NOT SO BRAWLING—Today's partisans may go in for all sorts of campaign activity with little fear of receiving a broken head or a black eye.

This was not always so, as a glimpse at this country's history will reveal. Some presidential campaigns in the past were bitterly fought on the streets, with clubs and fists swinging.

We are more polite today. Perhaps this may account for the rising tensions, unreleased by action. Of course no one wants to return to the duels, occasionally lethal, which marked some political disputes in the early days of the U. S.

THE EYES AND THE EARS—Today's citizens never had it so good before in being supplied with information that will help them come to decisions on candidates and issues.

Our citizens know every word of importance—and a lot of unimportant ones—spoken by the leading candidates in the election field.

They are told of the candidate's background, his likes and dislikes, his mistakes and his wisdom, and what he ate for breakfast.

This almost continuous stream of information will pour like a flood upon the citizenry until Nov. 4—the day of decision.

For those among us who are unable to control their tempers or their tongues it might be well to borrow a phrase from George Washington's "Rules of Civility": "Use no Reprehensible Language against any one, neither Curse nor Revile."

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Whether you've ever seen a prize fight or not you know what pugilism is and what a pugilist does. The latter man, face to face with another of similar training or inclination, engages in what used to be known as fistfights, fights fist to fist.

Nowadays, such fighters are not necessarily pugacious (pug-NAY-shus), quarrelsome, given to fighting. In fact, when you watch such an encounter on television it sometimes looks as if the two young men were engaged in some sort of friendly Indian dance. They are often of pleasant disposition, indeed, not inclined to pugacity (pug-NASS-i-ti), except as a means of livelihood.

Several other words come from the same source. Repugnant (re-PUG-nant), for instance, originally from Latin repugno, to fight against now means antagonistic, opposed or, especially, highly offensive to one's tastes or feelings. Prize fights or wrestling matches, for example, are extremely repugnant to some people. Repugnance (re-PUG-nance) and repugnancy (re-PUG-nun-si), both meaning thorough dislike, are from the same source.

Then we have impugn (im-PUNE). Coming from Latin impugno, it means literally to fight against. We use it chiefly in the sense to attack, to challenge, to call in question. We attack a man's character, especially in a political campaign, by impugning his motives.

The verb oppugn (ah-PUNE) is not in frequent use. Its meaning to fight against, is so similar to that of oppose, that the latter is commonly used in its stead. Oppugnant (ah-PUG-nant) is also infrequently used, but when used it means militant, warlike, hostile.

Expugn (ex-PUNE) is now only a dictionary word. In former use it meant to take by storm or by assault.

The road hog always seems to be the first to squeal.

Insurance Costs Make
Accidents a 'Luxury'

AUTOMOBILE accidents—like steaks, mink coats and six suits in the closet—are getting priced right into the luxury class. Only the well-heeled can afford to have them.

Steadily rising accident figures, boosting the already appalling traffic toll, are skyrocketing both collision and liability insurance costs almost to the prohibitive level.

Hardest hit by the more expensive insurance probably will be the hot-rod boys, with the flying foxtails and the clip-on, metal white sidewalls, who buy their gas by the quart.

The cost of adequate insurance to these lads is a good-sized chunk of the total cost of their cars. But optimists in the vehicular traffic field believe the rising costs of insurance may eventually impart to the hot-rodgers an idea which traffic safety experts have been trying vainly to get across for years.

The idea is that only by each individual driver equipping himself with a new, safe-and-sane set of driving habits are we ever going to curb a spiraling accident rate which already is claiming 377,300 lives a year, injuring 1,300,000 others, and causing untold millions in property damage.

While the hot-rod boys, with their speeding and swerving and general daredevilry, are obvious targets in any traffic safety reform, many of the rest of us are dangerous drivers in various ways. And we, too, unless we own more automobile stock than we do automobiles, will feel increasingly the pinch of rising insurance costs.

For instance, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies points out that stock insurance companies have had to request boosts in their liability rates twice, by substantial sums, since the spring of 1951.

This was the result, the ACS says, of $100 million losses by stock insurance companies on their automobile liability business in 1951. In the last six years the same companies say they have lost approximately $200 million on this type of business.

On top of this must be considered the big increases in collision insurance.

The Doctor Says . . .
Easiest Way Around Smoking
Is To Never Start The Habit

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A shocking letter recently came from a reader who said: "In our neighborhood at the school district there are many cases of very young children smoking. It seems to be a common thing for children 12 to 15 to take smoking as a matter of course. They even offer the cigarettes to children of 8 or 9."

In grownups, who are in a position to decide whether the pleasures of smoking are worth more to them than the possible harmful effects, all that is necessary is to state the known facts from time to time so that they can judge.

In children, however, smoking should be discouraged since it can surely do them no good. Such practices as described in the reader's letter indicate a terrible lack of responsibility on the part of the parents and the law enforcement agencies in regions where these practices are allowed to exist.

It is well known that excessive smoking—and even moderate smoking—interferes with athletic performance. Certainly, those who smoke are likely to get short of breath if they exert themselves immediately afterwards.

It is not surprising then that athletes in training are warned against smoking at least during the competitive season.

Many smokers complain of cold hands and feet. In all probability this is because the nicotine in tobacco smoke is absorbed and causes the blood vessels to contract, thus preventing them from carrying an adequate supply of warming blood. In some people, in fact, the contraction of the blood vessels is so great after smoking as to cause a rise in the blood pressure.

Furthermore, those who have definite blood vessel diseases are forbidden to smoke, since if they continue trouble is almost certain to occur and amputation of a limb may even be necessary.

TOBACCO IRRITATES LUNGS Tobacco smoke irritates the delicate mucous linings of the breathing passages. It is also likely to cause coating of the tongue and many heavy smokers develop a slight cough and even hoarseness from the irritating effects of the smoke. Some reports indicate that smoking increases the chances of cancer of the lungs.

Many people write to inquire how they can stop smoking. Unfortunately, there is no easy way, and about all that can be suggested is the use of will power and perhaps the substitution of some other motion such as chewing gum. By far the easiest way around the tobacco habit is not to start smoking at all.

Congressmen Question Veteran U. S. Attorney On Outside Activities

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON (AP) — Howard L. Doyle, veteran U. S. attorney at Springfield, Ill., appears before House investigators today for questioning about outside legal activities.

The 58-year-old attorney, who has said he has done nothing to warrant an investigation, was summoned as a witness before a House judiciary subcommittee which is probing the Justice Department.

Doyle's office is one of several U. S. attorneys' offices which the subcommittee has looked into, Chairman Chelf (D-Ky.) said.

Linked To Pabst Case
Robert Collier, the committee counsel, said Doyle "has engaged in outside practice over a period of years, and there is some evidence that such practice may have involved a conflict with the interests of the government." Doyle has been U. S. attorney for Southern Illinois since 1935.

Collier told newsmen that Justice Department attorneys are permitted to practice law on the outside, but the regulations prohibit any practice that "in any way or manner conflicts with the interests of the United States government."

Doyle's name came into subcommittee testimony yesterday during a hearing on Justice Department decisions concerning the prosecution of the Pabst Brewing Company. Earlier this year on a charge of violating pure food laws. During a Washington conference on the matter last February, Doyle was quoted as saying he has "always taken my oath of office seriously and have never done anything or will do anything which will cause me to fear any investigation whatsoever."

Filth In Grain
The Food and Drug Administration recommended seizure of 100,000 pounds of corn grits, used for beef, after an inspection of the Pabst Plant at Peoria, Ill., disclosed "shocking, unsanitary" conditions last year, the subcommittee was told. An inspector said he found insects and rodent filth in the grain.

The seizure was postponed and eventually dropped upon decision of John T. Grigsby, an attorney in the Justice Department's criminal section. Grigsby testified the company intended to destroy the contaminated grain and he believed there was no need for the seizure.

George P. Larrick, deputy Food and Drug administrator, said destruction of the grain prevented a civil suit against the company and thereby lessened any deterrent effect the prosecution would have had on other brewers.

Doyle, under instructions, eventually prosecuted the company on criminal charges, after recommending against this action because he said it would damage the Pabst reputation. The court found the company guilty on six counts and fined it $600. Pabst pleaded nolo contendere, which meant it neither contested nor admitted the charges.

Beer Clean Now
Larrick testified he believed the company is now operating legally and its beer is clean. The company issued a statement in Chicago yesterday saying:

"Destruction of faulty material is routine, whether the fault happens to be detected by an outside agency like Food and Drug or by our own laboratories who constantly check such matters. The carload in question had not as yet been inspected by our Milwaukee laboratory."

"Far more material of various kinds is rejected by our laboratories on routine check than the shipment here in question. . . . The present matter seems to have been brought to attention because of an allegation that the Justice Department was in error in permitting destruction of the material before rather than after a lawsuit."

"We are confident that there was nothing improper in the arrangement worked out by our attorney, which actually expedited disposal of the matter instead of delaying it."

Says Wonderful Things About You!

The instant your beautiful Cadillac points its crest into view, it begins to say wonderful things about you.

It says, almost as plainly as if the words were written out, that you are a person of achievement in your own world of affairs.

It talks of your good judgment and your splendid taste—and indicates your sense of responsibility for those who ride with you as passengers, or drive beside you in the traffic lanes.

It speaks of your family and home and your way of life—and, in general, paves the way for the respect of those you encounter as you sit at its wheel.

This is true because those who own Cadillacs form a virtual "Who's Who" of America's highways. In almost every community in the country, it is obvious that Cadillac is the favored car of the leading people.

The reason for this, of course, is found in the history of the car itself.

For fifty years, it has been the unwavering purpose to make Cadillac as fine a car as it is practical to produce. Goodness has always been the watchword—craftsmanship has always been the creed.

As a result, Cadillac has long been known and accepted as—"The Standard of the World." And, inevitably, people who want and seek the finest have turned to Cadillac.

That's why the man who sits at the wheel of a Cadillac is an accepted member of the most distinguished motoring family to be found anywhere.

If you are ready for membership in this incomparable group, better come in and see us soon. We'd be happy to welcome you at any time.

Electric Meet In Final Day

The fall conference of the Michigan Electric Cooperative statewide committee now being held in Gladstone went into its second day today after voting in Wednesday meetings to co-sponsor with Michigan State College a television program to educate state residents in the proper use of electric power, and to promote a "Michigan Electrical Week."

Managers and directors of nine of the state's 13 electric cooperatives are convening in Gladstone in the annual conference designed to improve the cooperatives' achievements through discussion of mutual problems.

Last night, 70 delegates, officers and their wives attended a mid-conference banquet at the Gladstone Yacht Club.

In their resolution to aid in the sponsoring of a TV program in power use education, the delegates moved to make the same information available to areas not served by television by supplying the films to interesting organizations in those areas.

To help promote the project, they elected H. E. Alvorsen, manager of the Southeast Michigan Electric Cooperative, as their representative on the MSC television committee.

In an afternoon session yesterday, the officers heard Paul St. Amant, chief of the U. S. Forest Service in Michigan, discuss the regulations and cooperative work of the forest service to protect electric lines in the state and to preserve the natural scenic beauty along the rights of way of the power lines.

The convening managers and directors also named Harold Lees of the Top O' Michigan Electric Company as its representatives on the state planning committee to promote, with the cooperation of MSC and other electric companies, a "Michigan Electrical Week."

The conference is slated to close today after concluding sessions in the Gladstone golf course club house.

Korean Swindle Revealed By Ike As 29,000 Cheer

says he helped to determine as a five-star general.

And the President has said the general periled this nation in 1945 by not warning against the future threat of Communism, and by voicing belief that Russia wanted friendship with this country.

Prepared For Worst

Eisenhower said he did testify before a congressional committee with "an optimistic hope and belief that the Russian policy was not then hostile, but was influenced by a desire for a workable friendship with the American people."

He said that hope was quickly proved "to be in vain," but in that hope "there then seemed to be the last best chance for world peace."

"Had we not striven for it then," he added, "how bitterly would we condemn ourselves now."

Then he asserted he was appealing at the time for Congress to take military precautions by strengthening the armed forces.

"Looking backward from 1952," he said, "I am mighty glad that I supported in 1945 a policy of hope for the best and prepare for the worst."

He went on to hit at Truman with this statement:

"But now listen to the man who is decrying this 1945 position of mine. In 1948, three years later and after repeated instances of Soviet duplicity, the same man man said, 'I like old Uncle Joe Stalin. Joe is a decent fellow.'"

Then he said "these particular charges against me are false." And he went on to give his own plan for prosecuting the cold war—which he said was the only course outside appeasement or "a stupidly aggressive attitude" that would increase the risk of another world war.

Line Traced In Blood

He proposed the United States "use all means short of war" in a huge psychological warfare program backed by every agency and resource of the nation.

This would call for meshing every action and policy of the government, he explained, adding if this were done, it would mean:

"We shall no longer have a Department of State that deals with foreign policy in an aloof cloister; a Defense Department that makes military appraisals in a vacuum; a Mutual Security Administration that... spends billions overseas."

Eisenhower noted that the 38th parallel passes just north of San Francisco—"this line is invisible in America, but in another land (Korea) it is traced in blood."

IT'S SAFER THIS WAY—Here the rubbish has been cleared away and the stairway becomes a safety exit rather than a hazard in event of fire. A former Escanaba man, Donald R. Skoog, of Cincinnati, O., was selected for a television and radio interview on a National Employ the Handicapped program this week.

He answered questions and demonstrated how he works as a draftsman and hunts, fishes, plays ball and bowls, though he lost his right leg and part of his left foot during World War II. The program was beamed from the Columbus, O., radio station.

Skoog is the son of Mrs. George Derouin, of Gladstone.

He was born in Escanaba and attended public schools here. His military service began in March, 1943. He took part in the Anzio beachhead operation and was awarded the Purple Heart in Italy for two injuries. Later, while on a drive 50 miles from the Rhine River, he was injured by a mine, in Nov., 1943.

The former Escanaban returned to the U. S. to Percy Jones hospital in Battle Creek, in Feb. 1945, and was hospitalized until July of the same year. Later he entered GI training at Cincinnati, where he worked in a shop during the day and attending drafting school evenings.

Skoog and his family are expected here in two weeks for a visit with his mother and other family members. He was married to the former Miss Gloria Smith, of Cincinnati, in 1946. The couple have three children.

Democrats Ask Funds From G. O. P. Nominee

NORTH PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Bayard Rustin, Republican nominee for U. S. senator, says the Democrats went to the wrong man for money.

He told a rally audience last night that he received a telegram signed by Sen. Kefauver, Sen. Fulbright and Sen. Douglas asking for "the largest check possible" for a "Volunteers for Stevenson Radio and TV Fund."

Ewing said his wife wired back: "Delighted your fund so inadequate. My husband is Republican candidate for U. S. senator."

Deserter Picked Up On Raft In Bering Sea

NOME, Alaska (AP)—An Air Force man who is charged with deserting his unit in Dayton, Ohio, was picked up yesterday floating about the Bering Sea on a five-man life raft.

It has not been explained how he got there.

The man, whose name has been withheld by officials, was spotted three miles from the mouth of the Yukon River by O. W. Tasch, a civilian pilot flying an amphibious plane.

Tasch asked him where he was going and he said Nome. He was 50 miles from his target, straight north across dangerous waters.

Tasch took him aboard his plane and turned him over to military authorities.

'Life Of Riley' Radio Show Writer May Be Deported To Canada

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Reuben Ship, who wrote the "Life of Riley" radio show for seven years, may be deported to his native Canada under the McCarran Act.

He was named by two witnesses who testified before the House Un-American Activities Committee here last week. They identified him as a member of a Communist radio writers' cell in Hollywood.

Ship refused to answer questions before the House Un-American Activities Committee here a year ago. He did tell the committee that he came to the United States in 1944 but never became a citizen, but he declined to say whether he had ever been a member of the Communist party.

Immigration officers booked him at the county jail yesterday. He was released later on $5,000 bond. The McCarran Act provides for deportation of aliens who are found to be members of the Communist party.

Egypt Will Punish Black Marketeers

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's reform government ruled today that black marketeers will be subject to punishment by military courts and made the Army responsible for enforcing recent drastic reductions in food prices.

Premier Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib's cabinet, at a seven hour session, also dismissed 16 more government officials for alleged corruption.

Plot Against Bolivia Government Nipped

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Police announced the arrest last night of a number of former Army officers and civilians, charging them with participation in a plot against the government.

The announcement did not say how many were arrested and gave no other details.

THE HELL BOMB

Nuclear energy can be liberated by two methods. One is fission, in which the nucleus of a heavy chemical element, such as uranium, is split into two nuclei of lighter elements. A neutron is fired into an atom, splitting it, to start the self-multiplying chain reaction pictured at right. Each nucleus splits into two fragments weighing less than the parent nucleus. According to a theory evolved by Albert Einstein the slight weight loss represents a tremendous release of energy.

This is the process used in the atomic bomb.

Fusion is the process used in the hydrogen bomb.

Men Get Tired

"The men's morale is very high, but they are tired" after 60 hours continuous fighting, reported Maj. Gen. Kim Chong Oh, commander of the Republic's ROK Ninth Division. "Their stand has been valiant and exemplary. We will hold our front at all costs."

The South Koreans fought the Chinese with grenades, rifle bullets and bayonets in a see-saw battle in which the crest changed hands more than a dozen times.

Dead of both sides littered the slopes, the ridgelines and the valleys. The South Koreans said they killed at least 2,000 Reds.

On Arrowhead Ridge, just west of White Horse, French troops attached to the U. S. Second Infantry Division last night threw back an assault by 3,000 Chinese. The Reds peppered the French this morning with long range rifle fire.

Price Controls Doomed By GOP, Truman Charges

"I see no reason to expect the Republican candidate to do as well," Truman declared. "He was in a position to cut waste in the military, as chief of staff of the Army. But I do not recall that he brought about any conspicuous examples of doing so."

"He certainly did no better in this respect than Gen. Marshall before him or Gen. Bradley and Gen. Collins after him. And he knows that military expenditures simply cannot be cut enough to reduce taxes, without weakening our defense and injuring our national safety."

"This is just the old flim-flam, and the Republican party hopes that we will be so dazzled by their general, that we will not see through his specious arguments."

Michigan GOP Goes To Farms

The GOP state central committee formed a Republican farm council composed of farmers in every county, scheduled a series of farm meetings to climax with a state-wide meeting here Oct. 18 and will bring State Sen. Paul Rogan, a dairyman of Ladysmith, Wis., as speaker at the meetings.

State GOP Chairman Owen J. Cleary said the council would carry the Republican Program to farmers and would help formulate federal farm policies if the GOP captures the White House.

Rogan will appear at meetings Oct. 13 in Marquette, Oct. 14 at Gaylord, Oct. 15 at Alma and Oct. 16 at Saline.

Tax Gripes

TAX GRIPES
(This is the fourth and final article in a series, "Tax Gripes" by Sylvia Porter, noted columnist of Post-Hall Syndicate.)

By SYLVIA PORTER

"The wails of the little taxpayers of this country will some day cause a revolution in our tax law. The study Congress is starting now gives me hope for the first time that the revolution is at hand. It won't come a minute too soon."

Thus one of the nation's leading tax authorities ended our talk—an interview in which he had denounced today's income tax law as snarled up in red tape, maddeningly inconsistent, flagrantly unfair to wage-earners and smaller taxpayers particularly.

Never before has our income tax law been so loaded with economic, social and political dynamite. Never before has a top-to-bottom overhaul of the entire system been so imperative.

The injustices that are buried deep in the law didn't matter so much when tax rates were low and the number of taxpayers was relatively small.

But today 44,000,000 Americans are paying taxes. Today we're paying more in taxes than we're spending on food.

Today countless families are miserably aware that their tax bills have eliminated their last little budget leeway.

It is vital news to all of us, therefore, that Congress' "Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation" is asking us for complaints about the law and for specific suggestions for improvements.

Businessmen and organized industry groups already are bombarding the committee with proposals on how corporation and excise taxes should be revised.

In the last three columns, I've outlined steps that should be taken to eliminate injustices to the individual taxpayer.

In the field of deductions, the inequities are terrific. And fundamental in any overhaul of deductions should be this promise.

All of us seeking income subject to taxation—businessmen, wage-earners, property owners, farmers—should be equal under the law and entitled to the same privileges. If it's right for a businessman to deduct necessary expenses incurred in the production of income, then it should be right for the wage earner to deduct his necessary expenses.

For instance, a wage-earner should be allowed deduction for what he spends on books and education to raise his taxable earnings.

A working wife should be allowed to deduct the cost of domestic help made necessary because she's away from home earning the money on which she pays the income taxes.

Painful Inconsistencies
An employee who must buy work clothes or uniforms for his job should be permitted to deduct this essential expense. In the field of exemptions, the inconsistencies are painful. And basic in any revision of exemptions should be this idea:

The smaller wage-earner should be able to get worthwhile tax economies through his exemptions and through recognition in the law of the realities of supporting dependents in his era.

For instance, the limit of $600 on exemptions and on earnings of a dependent is obsolete and should be substantially revised.

The list of dependents for which a taxpayer may claim exemption should be broadened to include distant relatives, foster children.

The provisions governing taxpayers who share in the support of a relative should be liberalized, made more realistic.

These are samples of the gripes I've collected from tax experts. Surely you have some of your own—many of your own.

So send them along to me. I'll make sure they come to the attention of the tax-writers.

A new administration, a new year, a new approach to tax-writing—all add up to our first chance in decades to force a tax revolution. Let's grab it!

Anne Baxter Turns To Smoking: Cigars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — What's happened to our Anne Baxter?

Long considered one of the most able and more conservative of the younger actresses, she started busting loose on her last picture. She played Cleopatra in one sequence and wore a rhinestone in her navel. That did it.

Smoking Cigars?

Then she started saying, "that Hollywood wasn't glamorous enough any more. She also said that conversation is virtually a dead art in the movie town. She dyed her hair blonde, making her look like Marilyn Monroe's sister. And now she's smoking cigars!

Yep, real Havana stogies. But not the long kind.

"They're short and thin, like a cigarette," she told me. "But they're the same makings as the cigars men smoke."

She credits Alfred Hitchcock, her director on "I Confess," with introducing her to cigars.

"We were on location in Quebec," she said. "After dinner, Hitch took out a cigar. It smelled heavenly, light and fragrant. Not the foul, heavy kind of smoke that clings to men's clothes. I tried it and was delighted. So Hitch sent to Cuba for the short, thin cigars, which are more suitable for women. I've been smoking them with coffee after dinner, and they're wonderful."

Men Raise Fuss

Miss Baxter said cigar-smoking by women is prevalent in Europe. She sees no reason why American women shouldn't follow suit.

"Of course, the men will raise a fuss," she remarked. "They always complain when they think their domain is being invaded. It was the same way with cigarettes and cocktails. Women might as well get some pleasure out of smoking, too. Cigarettes have become so pure, they're nothing but a nervous habit now."

The actress was dressed at lunch in keeping with her new character. She sported a filmy negligee, which she explained was part of her costume in the picture. She amplified her remarks about the dearth of good conversation in Hollywood.

Pipes Too Messy

"I said that most conversation

Begin To Reinhabit Pacific Island Chain

GUAM (P)—An attempt will be made soon to return human life to four uninhabited islands of the Marianas chain which stretches northward from Guam.

Fifty families on Saipan Island in the southern part of the chain are going to homestead on the tiny northern islands. The Marianas, administered by the United States under United Nations trusteeship, were ruled by the Japanese until ousted by United States forces in World War II.

The Japanese exported copra from the islands, and it is expected that the new settlers will add goats and pigs to the list.

One out of every five married women in Britain has a paid job.

Couldn't Sleep Couldn't Eat

Maybe you aren't very sick and yet you don't feel really well. Perhaps you suffer from headaches, indigestion, nervousness, gas and bloating, loss of sleep or lack of appetite. Frequently these symptoms are caused by constipation. When that's the case be smart, and like Mr. Peter Bothen of Chicago, Illinois, take

Dr. Peter's KURIKO

Mr. Bothen states: "I suffered very badly from functional constipation and my bowel movements were not very regular. Since taking Kuriko when needed I feel much better. My appetite is improved and I can sleep at night."

Gently and smoothly this time-proven laxative and stomachic- tonic medicine puts sluggish bowels to work and aids them to eliminate clogging waste matter; helps expel constipation's gas, gives the stomach that comforting feeling of warmth.

Kuriko's amazing effectiveness is due to a scientific formula which combines 18 (not just one or two) of nature's medicinal herbs, roots and botanicals—a secret formula perfected over a period of 80 years. Yes, for prompt, pleasant, proven relief from constipation's miseries—get Dr. Peter's KURIKO today.

'Bottle Baby' Plane Never Uses Its Fuel

SEATTLE, Wash. (P)—At Boeing Field there's a B-50 "bottle baby" that gets fed only in mid-air.

This B-50 is refueled in flight to check the refueling equipment. On each flight it takes on between 500 and 600 gallons of fuel.

The "bottle baby" returns to the field immediately and never gets a chance to use up the fuel, which is syphoned off to supply other planes. The B-50 has made about 100 such flights since the first of the year.

Of the estimated 2,500 known kinds of snakes, about 250 kinds have poison apparatus developed far enough to be dangerous.

Mildred Michaud Is Bride, Wed In Seattle Cathedral

Of wide interest in Escanaba, former home of the bride and her family, is the wedding of Miss Mildred G. Michaud and Richard P. Winters of Buckley, Wash., which took place at a 10 a. m. mass Sept. 13 in St. James Cathedral in Seattle, Wash. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Davis of Buckley.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Paul Beaudoin, wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon net over antique taffeta and a headpiece of stephanotis. Her flowers were Talisman roses, stephanotis and white gladioli.

Her sister, Miss Eva Michaud, who was her only attendant, wore a turquoise afternoon dress and a headpiece of yellow pompons. She carried a bouquet of yellow pompons and Talisman roses.

Richard V. Southard was best man and Al Wilke ushered.

Father James McCallion solemnized the wedding service. Hymns sung by the choir included "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "On This Day."

Mrs. Sam Beaudoin, acting mother of the bride, attended the wedding in a pheasant brown suit dress. Mrs. Davis wore purple with gray trim.

The breakfast for the wedding party and immediate family members was served at the Hotel Sorrento in Seattle, and the reception was held in Buckley. The newlyweds who went to Lake Sutherland, Wash., for their honeymoon are living at 108 Ward St. in Seattle.

Club Federation Continues Get-Out-The-Vote Drive

WASHINGTON, D. C.—What is your Political I.Q.? That is what the General Federation of Women's Clubs wants to find out.

Mrs. Oscar A. Ahlgren, Whiting, Indiana, president of the General Federation, and Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, Baltimore, Maryland, chairman of the Americanism department, have prepared a pamphlet on "Political Organization in the U. S. A." which asks the $64 questions that will give women the A B C of politics if they can find the answers.

Democratic and Republican handbooks have been sent to all the Federation's clubs with the questions.

All this is part of the "Get-Out-the-Vote" drive of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

"All political workers agree that elections are won in the precincts; therefore, since we, as a Federation of Women's Clubs, have some 20,000 units in precincts, we should work in our clubs and precincts, if we are to get out the vote," Mrs. Whitehurst stated.

Included in the pamphlet are questions on precincts, counties, city and state units, on political parties, the two-party system, on the national Congressional, state, county and precinct committees, on wards, on eligibility to vote.

From now until election day, the pamphlet is required study for all Federation members throughout the country.

AS WE LIVE

Jealousy Is A Disease That Kills Friendship

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
Jealousy in childhood is a destructive emotion. It can kill the love and respect of all with whom the child comes in contact. As the years go on it becomes worse. What should old friends do under such conditions, this young girl asks:

(Q) "Since my sister started dating regularly, a girl friend of ours has become openly jealous and spiteful. She's always been jealous, but lately her envy has reached such proportions that she can no longer conceal it. Many of her actions and remarks aim to hurt and anger us. We once liked this girl but her present behavior is turning us against her. We feel we should end our friendship with her. What do you think?"

(A) A friendship is too important to end without using every possible means to keep it. Do everything you can to save your friendship with this girl.

Because she feels she has less than you and your sister have, she has doubtless always been jealous and envious of you. But now that your sister is going steady, this is the straw that broke the camel's back; she can no longer keep her feelings under control. Naturally, like a child, she is trying to get the upper hand by angering you, making you feel that she is an important person, too.

It would be easy to break off your friendship when she does something to anger you but as she has been a friend for a long time, do you really want to end it? Why not try to save it?

Tactfully try to help your friend have some of the things she envies you for. Why not arrange to take her out on a triple or double date with your sister and her friend? See to it that she is welcome with your friends and, whenever possible, try to help her make or get clothes as nice as yours, if that is a source of the trouble. If, after a reasonable time, it is apparent that jealousy is too deep-rooted to kill then you have no alternative but to drift apart.

If you have a problem about

Plastic Coats Pretty

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For some time now, the matter of styling in plastic raincoats has been a disappointment to the average woman. But at last the situation is changing.

Many women, liking the plastic coat for its lightness, convenience, efficiency and budget pricing, were repelled by its appearance. Fit was left entirely to chance and one size was supposed to do something for everybody.

Obviously, it just couldn't work out that way. So, small girls trailed around in what seemed to be shower curtains while tall girls had to hunch their shoulders to fit inside. The upshot of this all was that no one looked good on a rainy day.

High fashion styling, and attention to sizing, has come at last to the plastic raincoat, making it really pretty to see. An Ernest Engel design, this new coat (above) is cut with full back flare and deep raglan sleeves.

Water-repellent cotton fabric in a choice of colors is used to trim the standing collar, front facing, pocket flaps, armholes and push-up cuffs. The coat itself is translucent and is in a heavier weight than is customary for these coats. There's a matching umbrella.

Delicious luncheon dish: Pile slices of buttered toast with slices of hard-cooked eggs; to with canned drained green asparagus tips and a cheese sauce.

EGG TIP
It's true that "most people do not know how to boil an egg." For best results, no egg should ever be boiled. Even hard boiled eggs are best when put in boiling water and then simmered. No protein—eggs, cheese or meat—should be cooked on a high fire. It will only toughen the food.

High School Group Meets

By MRS. VILAS YOUNG

Parents from Blaney were 100 per cent in attendance at the meeting of the Junior-Senior High School PTA Tuesday evening in the auditorium. Garden had a 50 per cent representation and the remainder of the 150 present were from Gulliver, and rural and city areas of Manistique.

During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Adeline La Croix, president, Roger Smith was elected to fill the vacancy of vice president. Mrs. Alvin Nelson, chairman of the dance committee, was instructed to decide upon dance dates and music.

Mrs. L. E. Wilson volunteered to act as chairman of the hostess committee for the meeting which will be held on the next report card day.

Mrs. William Willour, program chairman, introduced Arthur Hall, superintendent of Manistique public schools, who in turn, introduced the new teachers. In his introduction, Mr. Hall told something about the background of each and the subjects they taught. These teachers are Miss Eloise Hindman, Richard Bonifas, Douglas Harding, Rudy Brandstrom and Lowell Cooper.

Olson Speaker

Members of the Board of Education were introduced by J. Mauritz Carlson, president.

Mr. Hall then presented Carl Olson, high school principal, as speaker of the evening.

Mr. Olson told of his trip to Sweden to visit with relatives last summer, mentioning the fact that he had been waiting for four years for a reservation on a Swedish American Line boat. He succeeded with a reservation on the Gripsholm and from the time he left Chicago on a chartered train until his return his trip was Swedish.

Tells of School System
He used maps, one a large world map, to show the route, and the other a specially painted map of Sweden by J. Paul Eaton, art teacher.

The cities he visited in Sweden were Gothenburg, Kaarskruva and Stockholm.

Most of his talk centered on the educational system in Sweden. The education, books and lunches are free. Children must attend school from the ages 7 to 15 with a maximum of 35 in one class. Some classes are smaller.

The schools are state controlled with local councils directly in charge.

After two or three years in the primary school the children are segregated and can either go on to higher education or take general and vocational training.

Get Financial Aid

Those taking higher learning first enter the intermediate schools and then the gymnasium until about the age of 19. If at the end of this time they are able to pass a stiff examination they become known as students and are entitled to go on to the University.

In all the subjects taught in Swedish schools, only three or four are elective and the pupils attend school six days a week.

Financial aid in the form of loans to students is given by state colleges and universities to further education.

One of the most interesting schools, Mr. Olson, stated, had for its only requirement that an entrant be 18 years old. He or she could study any subject they wished to equip them for later life.

Mr. Olson also talked on the National Festivals and customs, some of which date back to pre-Christian days.

Wives Get Free Vacations

Many other interesting facts regarding Sweden were told by Mr. Olson but of particular interest was the fact that housewives are given free vacations providing they go far enough away and stay at least 10 days.

At the close of this interesting and informal talk members and friends adjourned to the home economics room where refreshments were served. Mothers of the 7th

Ask Continuance Of Courtesy Plan

Continuance of a parking courtesy program through the deer hunting and Christmas season, providing approval is obtained from the Manistique City Council, was voted by the local Lions Club at a regular meeting Tuesday evening.

The action was taken after numerous businessmen had requested that the program be continued at least through the deer season when thousands of non-resident hunters come to the community.

The courtesy program was started last June by the club in cooperation with the city and was discontinued in mid-September.

The club committee in charge of the courtesy plan will present a formal request to the council for continuance of the program at the next city board session.

Also on the meeting program were three high school students who spoke on the need of employing the physically handicapped. Speakers and their subjects were: Laura Pizzala, "More Than Money"; Mary Giovannini, "Can They Overcome Their Problem?"; and Nick Babaladeli, "Opportunity Limited".

The speakers were introduced by Marvin Frederickson, high school speech director.

Each speaker was presented with a fountain pen, gifts of the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company.

Miss Dolores Toyra, U. P. State Fair Queen, who appeared briefly at the session, was presented with a gift from the club. The presentation was made by Frank Gierke, Sr. Miss Toyra was accompanied by Mrs. John Vaughan, VFW Water Festival queen chairman.

grade room were hostesses with Mrs. R. E. Slining, chairman.

Approximately 100 members from various parts of the county attended the 6:30 dinner at the church which preceded the business session. Mrs. Leon Nicholson, retiring president, presided.

The following new officers were elected: President, Mrs. Edwin Crook; first vice president, Mrs. Russell Watson; second vice president, Mrs. G. The slate of officers was presented by a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Nellie Raredon, Mrs. P. P. Stamness, and Mrs. Rodger Smith.

The auxiliary's executive board presented a gift to the retiring president.

Appointment of a committee to investigate the feasibility of making drapes for the hospital took place, the committee to make its report at the next regular auxiliary session, scheduled in January at the Bethel Baptist Church.

Various reports revealed a total membership of 158, including five new ones welcomed at the annual session; a cash balance of $432.11 on hand; the raising of $174.10 by the library committee through its book sale; and the making of 300 pairs of cuffs by the cuff committee from felt furnished by the Manistique Pulp and Paper Company.

Other committee reports included the mending committee which meets every Thursday afternoon at the hospital and now has assumed full responsibility for all hospital mending; surgical committee which meets on Friday afternoons to make dressings, binders and other necessary supplies; the favors committee which has provided artistic favors, without duplication, for hospital trays on all holidays for the past two years; and the flowers committee which has furnished flowers to local patients and non-resident accident victims.

Table decorations at the annual dinner included Michigan holly, snow berries, cattails and maple leaves.

One of the leading candidates for an All-U. P. backfield berth, fullback Pat Cvengros of Ironwood, will be out of action the remainder of the season. Cvengros, a 190-pound powerhouse who already has college scouts on his trail, suffered a broken bone in his left leg. The injury was sustained in last week's game with Ahland and was thought at first to be a charleyhorse.

Cvengros had gained 735 yards rushing for the Red Devils in five games this season. On defense he played a linebacker position. His loss is a blow to the Red Devils who will invade Menominee in one of Friday night's top U. P. gridiron battles.

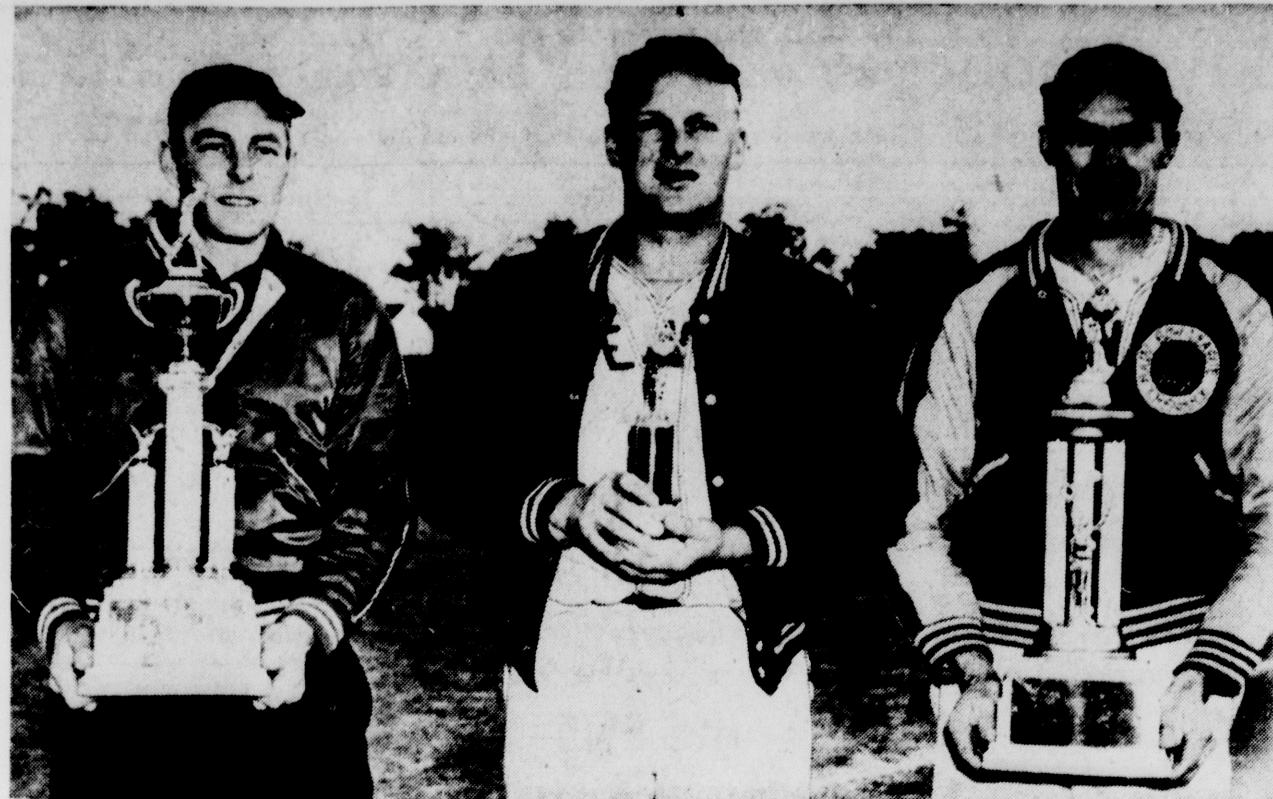

Speaking of Menominee, Soo Evening News sports editor Herb Levin says: "Scribes and fans in Northern Michigan are convinced of one thing—If Menominee wins its remaining games they are assured of the Upper Peninsula football championship. They practically clinched the title Saturday by routing a good and previously unbeaten Iron Mountain eleven, 32-14. It was the 13th consecutive Maroon win. Menominee plays Ironwood Friday and closes the season at Soo October 17."

Herb, who rejoined the U. P. sports scribes this year after a stint with Uncle Sam in Korea, hasn't been at a U. P. Sports Writers Association meeting for some time. And we'll wager that he'll be surprised this year when he finds out that it isn't as simple as it seems. Ask Jim Ripley of the Menominee Herald Leader who was dumbfounded (along with some of the rest of us) last year when Newberry was named U. P. champion. Menominee, Stambaugh and Newberry all finished with unbeaten and untied records.

We should probably keep our mouth shut. But it appears that the Wisconsin Badgers are over the hump. Wisconsin's decisive victory over Illinois Saturday by all odds should have cleared its way to the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl. Fortified with fine talent and a comparatively easy conference schedule, the Badgers, barring the jinx that has dogged them for three seasons, should go all the way. They have remaining Ohio State, Iowa, Northwestern, Indiana and Minnesota. Of these, only the Buckeyes, already beaten, should be tough for the Badgers. "We're Overdue in '52" is Wisconsin's slogan this year. Nothing could be more truthful.

Bill Hawke of Negaunee recently turned in the first 300 bowling score in the 21-year history of the Viga Alleys in that city. Hawke, who sports a 185 average, rolled the game in open bowling. Speaking of bowling, Andy Varipapa will appear for exhibition bowling at the Munising Bay Shore Alleys Oct. 15.

Dick Danielson, former Eskymo griddier, rates Menominee's Billy Wells a sure All-American before he gets through at Michigan State. Dick, a student at the University of Michigan who played against Wells when both were in high school, says Wells is the best college runner he has ever seen.

Championship Cross Country Run Scheduled Here Saturday Between Halves Of Grid Game

Eight Class B schools and three in Class C-D-E will compete in the annual Upper Peninsula cross country championship race here Saturday afternoon between halves of the Escanaba-Iron Mountain football game.

Class B schools entered are Escanaba, Soo, Marquette, Manistique, Ishpeming, Iron Mountain, Ironwood and Iron River. Competing in Class C will be Eben, Baraga and Houghton. Soo is defending champion in Class B.

Team trophies will be awarded to the champions and runners-up in the two classes and individual medals will be presented to the first 15 places in each class. A maximum of seven entries is allowed from each school. Scoring is based on the total of the first five finishers from each school and the lowest total is the winner.

Runners will start from the east side of the quarter-mile track in front of the gridiron grandstand and after a turn around the track will wind out across country on a two-mile jaunt, returning through the east gate on opposite side of the grandstand. Finish line is in front of the stands.

Coach Henry Wylie's Eskymo cross country squad has been working out daily in preparation for the coming meet. Top candidate for U. P. honors is Dick Casey, a senior with a powerful, ground-eating stride. Harlan Yelland, also a senior and running for the third year, is also highly rated.

Others on the squad are Carl Grey, Dave Gilbert, James King, Richard Johnson, Pat Gallagher, Dick Ferrari, Jim McCormick and Bob Degnan. Three of the candidates for the squad will be scratched to bring the entry list down to seven.

Broncs Host Florence Bobcats On Saturday

BARK RIVER—The Bark River Broncos, who haven't seen game action since Sept. 20, will resume gridiron hostilities against the Florence, Wis., Bobcats here Saturday afternoon at 2.

Coach Paul Wiinikainen's Broncos have had two straight opening dates since losing to the St. Joe Trojans 38-7. In their opener they drubbed Crystal Falls 20-6.

The long layoff is not the only trouble with Bark River's team. Regular center Jim LaVigne suffered a broken finger in an intersquad game Wednesday and will be lost for the Florence clash.

Working in his spot have been Kenneth Olson and Bob Johnson. Probable starting lineup for the Broncos will be Wayne Erickson and Harold Charbonneau at ends, Louie Dubord and Dick Shepherd at tackles, Don Viau and Peter Kasbohm at guards and Olson or Johnson at center. In the backfield will be Billy Good at quarterback, Jim Greenwood and Florian Bartoszek at halfbacks and Dave Kwarciany or Ron Demars at fullback.

Greenwood, hard-running speedster, has scored all of Bark River's touchdowns to date, scoring three times against Crystal Falls and once against St. Joe.

Not too much is known of the Florence team which has lost two games, tied one and won one. The victory came over Rock last Saturday.

Two Jayvee Grid Games Are Slated

Two junior varsity football games are on tap for local grid fans this weekend.

Coach Steve Baltic's Escanaba Eskymos will take on the Iron Mountain jayvees Saturday afternoon in a 12 noon contest on the Esby athletic field.

The St. Joe Trojan 7th-8th-9th grade squad, coached by Bob Dufour, will meet the Lourdes of Marinette junior varsity at 2 Sunday afternoon on Memorial Field.

Esby-Mountaineer Grid Squads Hit Injury Jinx

Injuries will keep several regulars out of action when the Escanaba Eskymos entertain Iron Mountain in a feature grid clash here Saturday afternoon. Absent from the Eskymo lineup will be Con Michael, defensive right linebacker. Michael suffered a chest injury after intercepting a Kingsford pass and running the ball back 44 yards to set up an Escanaba touchdown.

From Iron Mountain comes word that two regulars will be missing Saturday. Albert Sandona, All-U. P. guard last year, is out of action with a knee injury. Bob Ladwig, capable halfback who has seen a lot of action, is out with a bad ankle. Neither is expected to see action.

Also on the Mountaineer injured list are Bruce Bianco, fullback, and Bob Pozza, quarterback and halfback.

Emerald Jayvees At Home Friday

MANISTIQUE — The Emerald reserves will be seeking their first victory of the 1952 season when they collide in the Hall Stadium here Friday night against the American Sault Bees. The game is scheduled for 8:30 under lights.

While the local seconds are clashing with the Soo reserves the Emerald varsity eleven will be in the American Soo seeking its sixth straight win.

Officials for the reserve game will be Sylvester Rubick and Robert Berger, of Manistique, and Norman Slough, of Rapid River.

Coach Rudy Brandstrom's reserves have taken it on the chin in two games and have tied a third.

They played Gladstone seconds to a 6-6 deadlock in the opening game here, lost 25-0 at Newberry, and were nosed out, 7-0, here last week by Munising. The scheduled opening game on Sept. 13 at Negaunee was cancelled at the request of the Miners.

A special attraction for Friday's event will be a half time game between local seventh and eighth grade elevens.

Eskymos Of 1939 To Make Reunion Plans

Members of the 1939 Escanaba Eskymo football squad are making plans for a reunion gathering. Jim Davidson has asked all squad members to meet at the north end of the stadium immediately following the Escanaba-Iron Mountain game Saturday to make reunion plans.

Escanaba's Turn To Win On 'Even' Year

If past performances mean anything, this should be Escanaba's year in the gridiron series with Iron Mountain.

The teams have alternated victories for the past six seasons, and each time Escanaba's turn came in the "even" year. In fact, in the 31 games played between the two schools since 1897 Escanaba has lost only twice in an "even" year. So 1952 looks like an Esby victory—if you're of a superstitious bent.

Regardless of the odd or even years, Escanaba hold a big edge in the 31-game series. The Eskymos have won 21 times, lost nine and played a scoreless tie.

The teams opened their rivalry in 1897 but played only three games up to 1926 when they began their series in earnest. They've met each year since then, and played two games in the 1943 and 1944 seasons.

The only two games lost by Escanaba in an even number year were in 1944 and 1930.

Following are the series results:

Year	Esc.	IM
1917	6	7
1926	6	2
1927	0	6

Injuries Cause Changes In Michigan's Lineup

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR (AP)—There will be a few changes in the lineup when Michigan meets Indiana here Saturday.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan has to replace two regulars and likely will have to replace two more.

End Merritt Green is reported definitely out with a severe ankle twist. Ralph Stribe, first string tackle from Detroit, is out for the season with a hip dislocation.

In addition, the Michigan coach said he was doubtful about both Halfback Frank Howell and End Tad Stanford.

Shifts Pederson
Howell, still nursing a knee injury, may get into the game but he is not expected to do much.

Stanford is on the doubtful list as a result of a shoulder injury suffered in the Stanford game Saturday.

Oosterbaan has shifted Ben Pederson, 215-pound tackle, into Stribe's position and backed him up with Ron Geyer, a Toledo, O., product who fits the same physical dimensions.

Green's No. 1 replacement, John Veselenak, is also ailing, bringing sophomore Jim Bates into that gap.

Freshman Tony Branoff is expected to carry on in Howell's right half position as he did against Stanford and Kalamazoo Junior Bob Topp is the choice to replace Stanford.

Top Passer
The Michigan coach is afraid the circumstances put the Wolverines in a difficult spot against the third "fired up" team in as many weeks.

In the wake of spirited Michigan State and Stanford opposition, Michigan is facing an Indiana squad that is convinced this could be its year to down the Wolverines.

Indiana brings in another top notch passer in Quarterback Lou D'achille who has already passed for 234 yards and two touchdowns by completing 12 of 21 aeries. Indiana was whipped by Ohio State 33-13 but took Iowa 20-13 last weekend.

It is the turning point for Michigan. Whether the Wolverines take the right road or not in a question so perplexing that the oddsmakers have installed Michigan as only a slim favorite and that's on the basis of the long-time record.

Ed Roush holds the Cincinnati Reds' record for hitting safely in consecutive games. Roush hit safely in 27 straight contests in both 1920 and 1924.

Michigan State Host To Texas A & M '11' In Saturday Feature

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—A lot of people who don't know one end of a plow from the other will be concentrating on the antics of the undergraduates of a pair of agricultural colleges come Saturday.

The colleges — Michigan State and the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, popularly known as Texas A & M—specialize in football as well as the education of experts in animal feeds and fertilizers.

The game will be televised nationally so a country of critics will be peering into their sets to see if the young collegians have been neglecting their football for higher education.

Ranked Second

Michigan State was ranked the best in the nation in the Associated Press poll until this week. Then because the MSC Spartans had to win last week from Oregon State by a last second field goal they were demoted to second behind Wisconsin.

Texas A & M is a hungry team that hasn't cracked the national ratings yet but will if the Texas Aggies take this one.

Michigan State has won 17 in a row. The last time MSC was beaten—way back in 1959—it was by Maryland, a team that used the T formation. Texas A & M uses the T and this worries coach Biggie Munn, one of the best workers in the coaching business.

Key man in the Texas T attack is quarterback Ray Graves, who throws passes like a man popping popcorn. Graves completed 19 of 26 against Kentucky in a game that Kentucky won 10-7 last week because the clock ran out while the Aggies were pounding in for another touchdown.

Impressed By Graves

Michigan State backfield coach Steve Sebo returned from the game mightily impressed by Graves.

"He can run and he can pass and you never know which he'll do," Sebo reported. "He floats along behind that line and then he makes up his mind whether to run, to lateral off the ball or to sprint back and throw it."

Besides the straight T Texas A & M used the Split T and the Floating T. There are generally three or four men downfield as potential pass receivers.

Don Ellis, an elusive, shifty halfback carries the mail in the running attack and "Little" Jack Little, a six foot two inch senior tackle of all-American potential is the best man in the line.

Michigan State uses a combination of the T, split T and single wing.

Although the bread and butter of the Michigan State attack is in the running game of its brilliant assortment of backs, Michigan State also can pass.

Tom Yewcie, breaking in as quarterback this year, throws most of them. His favorite targets are Paul Dekker, a six foot four inch end with hands as big as coal shovels, and halfback LeRoy Bolden and end Ellis Duckett, a pair of Negro speedsters who starred together in high school at Flint, Mich.

To confuse television viewers, Michigan State also has its Ellis-Jim Ellis, a fixture at safety. Ellis, also a Negro, gathers in the kicks and punts for Michigan State and then takes off upfield like a cork popping out of a bottle.

Essentially, Saturday's game will be a duel between a great running team and a potent passing outfit that could achieve greatness by winning.

Box Office Battle Of Blondes Begins

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A box office battle of ice-borne blondes—Barbara Ann Scott and her Hollywood Ice Revue versus Sonja Henie and her 1952 Ice Revue—begins tonight.

They'll appear simultaneously in Indianapolis for eight of the next 10 nights.

Barbara Ann, the sweet school girl type, took Sonja's job in Arthur Wirtz's Hollywood show a year ago.

Has Own Show

Sonja immediately organized her own show. Her management claimed a total attendance of over one million for her 1951-52 tour. The Scott show claimed over two million.

The Little Norwegian wasn't able to book her show into Indianapolis, however, and it always has been one of her best audiences. This year she brought a portable rink to the Butler University fieldhouse and opened Oct. 3 after a premier in Chicago.

The Hollywood Ice Review management thought it was more than coincidence that the Henie show came to town almost a week ahead of the Scott premiere, announced last April. Sonja didn't improve relations with an announcement that ticket sales are so good she'll stay an extra week to Oct. 18.

Former Champions
The Hollywood Ice Revue's first stand this year will run through Oct. 26 at the Indiana State Fair grounds coliseum. It played a private "pre-opening" show last night for RCA employees.

Barbara Ann and Sonja are both former Olympic figure skating champions, but they never competed against each other. The Canadian girl is 24, Sonja 39.

A newsman asked Barbara Ann Wednesday what she thought about Sonja. She said she was a long-time admirer of Miss Henie's skating.

"When I was a little girl," she said, "I went to see all her movies."

Rated Best Yet

Critics after last night's private performance called the Hollywood show one of the best of the 18 annual Wirtz productions. They found Miss Scott more sure of herself.

In Barbara Ann's show, the hip-shaking is done ably by bouncy, strawberry-blond Andre McLaughline and versatile Carol Lynn.

The Hollywood Ice Revue will go from Indianapolis to St. Louis, then east to several cities including Milwaukee, Chicago, and Detroit, and then on a tour of Canada.

The Henie show will go next to Raleigh, N. C., and Washington, with the rest of the itinerary still indefinite.

Stop Wisconsin, Is Buckeye Cry

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State is building up to a terrific pep with a "Stop Wisconsin" offensive that is sweeping through its football ranks.

Latest reports from Columbus, O. scene of the Buckeyes' test Saturday against undefeated Wisconsin, the nation's No. 1 ranked team, indicate Ohio State will be keyed to the sky by kickoff time.

The team is buoyed up much like it was a year ago when it battled favored Illinois to a scoreless tie. The Buckeyes even have "Beat Wisconsin" printed at the bottom of their drinking cups.

In a two-hour workout yesterday, Ohio State concentrated on line defense and a passing attack.

Wisconsin, meanwhile, has been stressing defense against the Buckeyes' split-T attack.

Other briefs:

Illinois—Bus Stevens, kickoff and point-after-touchdown kicker, may be lost with a twisted knee. Washington, the Illinois' foe Saturday, may lose its ace pass-catcher Bill Early, who has a sprained ankle.

Indiana—Scrimmage has been cancelled to avoid risk of additional injuries. Defensive work against Michigan's single wing and T attack is being keynoted.

Purdue—Two defensive men, halfback Ed Zembal and end Dan Cnric, have returned to heavy workouts after being on the casualty list two weeks.

Minnesota—Dale Quist is being readied to spell left halfback Paul Giel against Northwestern.

Notre Dame—David Flood, senior defensive linebacker, is back in action after recovering from a bruised shoulder.

See Badgers, Spartans And Wolverines On Top

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—The one thing you need to make football forecasts is confidence. After last week's debacle, the Claassen Confidence Company, Inc., went into bankruptcy.
Waiting for reorganization of the firm, here are this week's winners:
Wisconsin over Ohio State. This is another of those Big Ten bruisers. Wisconsin has the more solid club, plus Alan (The Horse) Ameche but Ohio State has the incentive and could win it.
Penn over Princeton. Some day that Pennsylvania horde is going to bust loose and hurt somebody. Saturday is likely to be the day and the college football world's longest winning streak, Princeton's 24, goes boom.
Michigan State over Texas A & M. This is Saturday's TV gem. The Spartans, who specialize in late rallies, had better get the points early this time because those Texans can run long and far.
Maryland over Georgia. A pair

Early Dent Made In Big Ten's Prestige

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR (AP)—An early dent has been made in the oft-made claim that the Big Ten is the toughest conference in football.
With the second week of the fall campaign down in the record book, Western Conference teams have won three games, lost five and tied two against outside opposition.
In the entire 1951 season, Big Ten teams lost only eight and tied one "outside the family." The nine "outside" losses in 1948 and 1949 were high points for non-conference teams since 1945.
Four Wins Already
Particular interest is being given the Pacific Coast teams, which managed three wins over Western Conference teams last year. The PCC claims four victories over Big Ten rivals already and Oregon State lost out to Michigan State 17-14 in the dying seconds of their game last Saturday.
California put the biggest dent in Big Ten prestige with a 49-13 win over Minnesota. Washington also took Minnesota, 19-13. In addition, Stanford beat Michigan 14-7 and University of Southern California whipped Northwestern 31-0.
The circumstances give rise to the thought that this may be a good year to miss out on the Rose Bowl bid. Wisconsin is the prime favorite currently. However, in the hurly-burly of the short football season, it could be Purdue or another team.
Odds On Badgers
However, the odds are on the

Boxer Chuck Davey Will Be Married
ROCHESTER (AP)—Welterweight boxer Chuck Davey is going to get married.
Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Abell of Rochester yesterday announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to the "swinging scholar" from Michigan State College.
No date has been set for the wedding. Miss Abell is a nurse now on leave of absence from Henrotin Hospital in Chicago.

National Hockey League To Open Action Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Hockey League swings into its 35th season tonight with the defending champion Detroit Red Wings playing host to the injury-riddled New York Rangers while the veteran-studded Montreal Canadiens are entertaining the rejuvenated Chicago Black Hawks.
Seeking their fifth straight league title, the Red Wings will take the ice without Sid Abel. The reliable center, who played for Detroit for 12 years, is now coach of the Black Hawks. Also missing, from the Red Wings' lineup is rugged defenseman Leo Reise.

Navy's Guard Named Lineman Of Week

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK (AP)—Steve Eisenhauer, Navy Guard, is the lineman of the week.
A husky 200-pounder from Sheffield, Pa., Eisenhauer today easily won the first Associated Press lineman poll of the football season.
His standout performance last Saturday as the unbeaten Middies walloped Cornell, 31-7, put him on top in the voting.
Eisenhauer, a 21-year-old junior who failed to earn a letter a year ago, blocked a punt for one touchdown against Cornell. He recovered two fumbles and made four tackles alone which cost the Big Red 31 yards.

of unbeaten giants. Experience gives Maryland the edge although Georgians say this is their best team since the Trippi days.
Syracuse over Cornell. Syracuse hasn't beaten Cornell since 1938 and comes to this game with Avatus Stone and Ed Dobrowski, ace backs, out with broken leg bones. But the Orange still is favored.
Michigan over Indiana. Can you remember when any previous Michigan team met its third foe and still was looking for its first victory?
Oklahoma over Texas. The Texans will discover that Vessels is the name of a top back, not to be confused with a fleet of ships on the Gulf.
Notre Dame over Pittsburgh. Here is where the Pittsburgh revival comes to a sudden halt.
Georgia Tech over Tulane. The Tech backfield is young—and ferocious.
Illinois over Washington. West Coast teams have spilled four Big Ten elevens without a defeat. The Illini aren't in the habit of losing to the westerners, in the Rose Bowl especially.

Villanova over Wake Forest. Filipinski and company, to have their hands full.
Navy over William and Mary. The Navy defense has allowed two opponents a mere eight yards gained rushing. That comes out to three and a half inches for each rushing play.
UCLA over Rice. The edge goes to the home team.
Stanford over Oregon State. Stanford spent the week teaching Bob Mathias how to carry the ball.
The others:
Friday Night
Bucknell over Temple. Boston College over Drake. Boston University over Miami. Florida State over Virginia Military.
Saturday
East: Columbia over Yale, Colgate over Rutgers. Army over Dartmouth. Holy Cross over New York University. Brown over Rhode Island. Harvard over Washington of St. Louis. Coast Guard over Wesleyan.
Midwest: Purdue over Iowa. Kansas over Iowa State. Nebraska over Kansas State. Detroit over Marquette. Northwestern over over Wichita, Missouri over Southern Methodist. Tulsa over Houston.
South: Florida over Clemson. Tennessee over Chattanooga. Duke over South Carolina. Stetson over Furman. Virginia over George Washington. Louisiana State over Kentucky. Vanderbilt over Mississippi. The Citadel over Newberry. Mississippi over North Texas State. North Carolina State over Davidson. Penn State over West Virginia. Alabama over Virginia Tech. Auburn over Wofford. Washington & Lee over Richmond.
Southwest: Baylor over Arkansas. Texas Christian over Trinity. Texas Christian over Trinity.
Far West: Utah over Brigham Young. Colorado over Arizona. Wyoming over Colorado A & M. California over Oregon. Utah State over Idaho. Montana over Denver.

Texas Christian Back Total Offense Leader

NEW YORK (AP)—Ray McKown of Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, seventh in total offense among the nation's major college football teams a week ago, has taken over the No. 1 spot, the NCAA Service Bureau disclosed today.
McKown has accounted for 657 yards, 547 by passing, in three games to supplant last week's leader, Dick Shinaut of Texas Western. Shinaut has 650 yards, 612 via the air lanes. Despite McKown's all-out offense, TCU has scored only two touchdowns in three games.
Don Heinrich of the University of Washington, champion passer of two years ago who missed action last fall due to injuries, has moved into the No. 1 passing role.

Sports Briefs

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds have acquired 26-year-old catcher Dick Kinaman from the Cleveland Indians. He comes to the Reds as part of the waiver deal which sent outfielder Wally Westlake from the National League Reds to the American League Indians.
ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP)—Bill Spivey, former All-America basketball player for the University of Kentucky, has signed to play for the Elmira team of the American Basketball League.
Spivey is under indictment in New York on a perjury charge that stemmed from the inquiry into collegiate basketball point fixing.
He has maintained he is innocent of any connection with the scandal and has said he expects to be cleared of the charge.
CLEVELAND (AP)—Marsh Samuel, public relations director of the Cleveland Indians since 1946, resigned yesterday in a disagreement with general manager Hank Greenberg over the way the promotions office should be run.
DETROIT (AP)—A 25-cent dividend has been declared by the Hazel Park Racing Association, payable Jan. 2, 1953, to stockholders of record Dec. 10. It is the third consecutive annual dividend paid since the race track opened in 1949.

Canadiens Plan To Stand Pat

(First of a Series)
MONTREAL (AP)—Hopeful that his colorful Montreal Canadiens can upset Detroit's designs on a fifth straight National Hockey League pennant, Coach Dick Irvin is sending a stand-pat team into the 1952-53 race and expecting big things of the incomparable Maurice (Rocket) Richard.
"The Rocket looks great," said the normally dour Montreal coach. "He should score 60 goals, in fact, my right wing strength is so immense I expect 125 goals from Richard. Boom Boom Geoffrion and Busher Curry."
Richard, who holds the NHL record of 50 goals in a campaign, was held down last season by severe abdominal pains. He needs only six goals to establish a big league career record, now the property of Nels Stewart, who scored 324 in 15 seasons.
Montreal's detractors point out that its centers are all in their dotage and unlikely to stand up under the 70-game grind. Elmer Lach and Billy Reay are each 34; Ken Mosdell is 30, often plagued with injury.
Irvin is also going with five holdover defensemen—Doug Harvey, an all-star; Captain Butch Bouchard, Tom Johnson, Jim MacPherson and Dollard St. Laurent.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT
Cincinnati—Ezzard Charles, 189, Cincinnati, knocked out Bernie Reynolds, 187, Glendale, N. J., 2.
Billy Wells, one of the teap performers of Michigan State's "Light Brigade" backfield has been dubbed the "Menominee Meteor" by appreciative sportswriters.

Actress Wendy Barrie Sues He. Ex-Husband For Alleged Slander

NEW YORK (AP)—Actress Wendy Barrie is suing her former husband for $250,000 for alleged slander. She charges he gossiped that she was living immorally with a man and supporting him. Miss Barrie denied the charges in a complaint filed yesterday in Federal Court against David L. Meyer. She said he slandered her thrice last spring by telling various persons here and in Florida that she was "openly living with 'Cappy' Smith as man and wife without being married, and is supporting him." Smith was not identified in the suit. However, her attorneys describe Smith as a "mere acquaintance." Meyer, a textile manufacturer, and Miss Barrie were married in 1946 and divorced in 1950. The suit gave a Palm Beach Shores, Fla., address for Meyer.
